NOTE: Per San Francisco Passport Agency, Sep 96, Special Bulletin: California birth abstracts are no longer acceptable for passport purposes. Computer programming used in creating these birth abstracts shows the county of issuance as the place of birth even if the person was born in a foreign country and adopted in California. Therefore, please advise all applicants born in California that only the long form certified birth certificates (Figure 11-1) are acceptable for passport purposes. To avoid delays, have the applicant get the correct birth certificate before applying for the passport.
